Question ID : 63068049378

Comprehension:

Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow.

A child was standing on a street-corner. He leaned with one shoulder against a high board-fence and swayed the other to and fro, while kicking carelessly at the gravel.

Sunshine beat upon the cobbles, and a lazy summer wind raised yellow dust which trailed in clouds down the avenue. Clattering trucks moved with indistinctness through it. The child stood dreamily gazing.

After a time, a little dark-brown dog came trotting with an intent air, down the sidewalk. A short rope was dragging from his neck. Occasionally, he trod upon the end of it and stumbled. He stopped opposite the child, and the two regarded each other. The dog hesitated for a moment, but presently he made some little advances with his tail. The child put out his hand and called him. In an apologetic manner, the dog came close, and the two had an interchange of friendly pettings and waggles. The dog became more enthusiastic with each moment of the interview, until with his gleeful capering he threatened to overturn the child. Whereupon the child lifted his hand and struck the dog a blow upon the head.

This thing seemed to overpower and astonish the little dark-brown dog, and wounded him to the heart. He sank down in despair at the child's feet. When the blow was repeated, together with an admonition in childish sentences, he turned over upon his back, and held his paws in a peculiar manner. At the same time, with his ears and his eyes, he offered a small prayer to the child.

He looked so comical on his back, and holding his paws peculiarly, that the child was greatly amused and gave him little taps repeatedly, to keep him so. But the little dark-brown dog took this chastisement in the most serious way, and no doubt considered that he had committed some grave crime, for he wriggled contritely and showed his repentance in every way that was in his power. He pleaded with the child and petitioned him, and offered more prayers

In an apologetic manner, the dog came close, and the two had an interchange of friendly pettings and waggles. The dog became more enthusiastic with each moment of the interview, until with his gleeful capering he threatened to overturn the child. Whereupon the child lifted his hand and struck the dog a blow upon the head.

This thing seemed to overpower and astonish the little dark-brown dog, and wounded him to the heart. He sank down in despair at the child's feet. When the blow was repeated, together with an admonition in childish sentences, he turned over upon his back, and held his paws in a peculiar manner. At the same time, with his ears and his eyes, he offered a small prayer to the child.

He looked so comical on his back, and holding his paws peculiarly, that the child was greatly amused and gave him little taps repeatedly, to keep him so. But the little dark-brown dog took this chastisement in the most serious way, and no doubt considered that he had committed some grave crime, for he wriggled contritely and showed his repentance in every way that was in his power. He pleaded with the child and petitioned him, and offered more prayers

Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow.

A child was standing on a street-corner. He leaned with one shoulder against a high board-fence and swayed the other to and fro, while kicking carelessly at the gravel.

Sunshine beat upon the cobbles, and a lazy summer wind raised yellow dust which trailed in clouds down the avenue. Clattering trucks moved with indistinctness through it. The child stood dreamily gazing.

After a time, a little dark-brown dog came trotting with an intent air, down the sidewalk. A short rope was dragging from his neck. Occasionally, he trod upon the end of it and stumbled. He stopped opposite the child, and the two regarded each other. The dog hesitated for a moment, but presently he made some little advances with his tail. The child put out his hand and called him. In an apologetic manner, the dog came close, and the two had an interchange of friendly pettings and waggles. The dog became more enthusiastic with each moment of the interview, until with his gleeful capering he threatened to overturn the child. Whereupon the child lifted his hand and struck the dog a blow upon the head.

Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow.

The Nobel Prizes are announced annually in the fall since 1901. It covers five different disciplines: chemistry, physics, literature, peace and physiology/medicine. Additionally, there is an economics prize awarded at the Nobel ceremony. The entire procedure of the announcement of winners takes a whole year. In the month of September, the Nobel Committee invites more than 6,000 individuals to submit names for consideration. A person cannot nominate himself or herself. Only Nobel laureates, members of the Nobel Committees, holders of chairs in chosen prestigious universities, national governing body members, and other selected notable scientists and leaders in each of the categories have the right to nominate. These nominators are chosen in such a way that as many countries and universities as possible are represented over time. The names of the nominees and other information about the nominations cannot be revealed until 50 years later.

The last date of the submission is 31st January. The committee then screens nominations. Sometimes, the list may contain more than 1,000 names. A working list is made with 350 names. However, the number depends on the field. Disciplines like Physics and Economics have the most names. While the peace award list is much smaller. By spring, that list gets whittled down to almost 15 names, with the help of expert consultation.

The recommendations are given to the prize-awarding institutions, which determine final selections. The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences confers the prizes for physics, chemistry and economics. The Karolinska Institute confers the prize for physiology or medicine. The Swedish Academy confers the prize for literature; and the Norwegian Nobel Committee confers the prize for peace. The awards ceremony takes place in December. Official Nobel laureates are honoured with a cash prize, diploma and gold medal. Nobel Prizes are not awarded posthumously. However, if a person is awarded a prize and he dies before receiving it, the prize is presented.

भारत जैसे देश के लिए सहकारिता की पद्धति को अपनाना विशेष रूप से आवश्यक है। इसका कारण यह है कि भारत में छोटे किसानों तथा व्यापारियों की संख्या ही अधिक है। ये लोग निर्धनता तथा व्यवस्था के चक्र में बुरी तरह से फँसे हुए हैं। सहकारिता ही इनकी शक्तियों को एक सूत्र में पिरो कर उनका उद्धार कर सकती है। कृषि के क्षेत्र में तो सहकारिता की पद्धति विशेष रूप से उपयोगी है। इसकी सहायता से खेतों को बड़ा किया जा सकता है तथा क्रय-विक्रय का समुचित प्रबंध हो सकता है। गृह उद्योगों के विकास के लिए भी सहकारिता की पद्धति बहुत लाभकारी है। बैंक, व्यापार तथा यातायात के क्षेत्र में भी सहकारिता के आधार पर संगठन किया जा सकता है। सहकारिता के सिद्धांतों की इन विशेषताओं को दृष्टि में रखकर ही हमारी पंचवर्षीय योजनाओं में सहकारिता को बहुत ऊँचा स्थान दिया गया है। योजना आयोग का यह विचार है कि अर्थव्यवस्था के विभिन्न क्षेत्रों में सहकारिता का अधिकाधिक उपयोग किया जाना चाहिए।

Comprehension:

भारत जैसे देश के लिए सहकारिता की पद्धति को अपनाना विशेष रूप से आवश्यक है। इसका कारण यह है कि भारत में छोटे किसानों तथा व्यापारियों की संख्या ही अधिक है। ये लोग निर्धनता तथा व्यवस्था के चक्र में बुरी तरह से फँसे हुए हैं। सहकारिता ही इनकी शक्तियों को एक सूत्र में पिरो कर उनका उद्धार कर सकती है। कृषि के क्षेत्र में तो सहकारिता की पद्धति विशेष रूप से उपयोगी है। इसकी सहायता से खेतों को बड़ा किया जा सकता है तथा क्रय-विक्रय का समुचित प्रबंध हो सकता है। गृह उद्योगों के विकास के लिए भी सहकारिता की पद्धति बहुत लाभकारी है। बैंक, व्यापार तथा यातायात के क्षेत्र में भी सहकारिता के आधार पर संगठन किया जा सकता है। सहकारिता के सिद्धांतों की इन विशेषताओं को दृष्टि में रखकर ही हमारी पंचवर्षीय योजनाओं में सहकारिता को बहुत ऊँचा स्थान दिया गया है। योजना आयोग का यह विचार है कि अर्थव्यवस्था के विभिन्न क्षेत्रों में सहकारिता का अधिकाधिक उपयोग किया जाना चाहिए।
